EXPERTISE

- I am a talented content and copywriter with a specialization in articles, blogs, and feature writing. My degrees in English Literature and Film Studies only bolster my ability to get my teeth into any subject I choose.
- Over the years, I have written for a wide range of clients and have learned to adapt and tailor my voice to each one's needs. I am a strong communicator and can quickly absorb new information and desires.
- During my years as a writer, I have learned the importance of finding a voice that works not just for me but for each new client. I am able to communicate, understand, and integrate new styles into my work.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Journalist

Savage Ventures

Working with Savage Ventures gave me the chance to write as an on-the-pulse journalist. I conducted interviews, wrote up-to-date, daily news, and covered many cultural topics. I self-published and edited around 200 articles a month.

Article Writer

Gamurs

I worked with the Gamurs company at two different sites. Primarily, I wrote for PC Invasion, researching, composing, and pitching ideas on current games and cultural topics. I covered guides, reviews, and thinkpieces. However, with Destructoid, I was also able to delve into my love for literature, writing lists, guides, and reviews.

Travel Guide Writer

House of Bold

Together, we created the Saint Martin Print Travel Guide. We worked with sponsors and locals to provide a guide on walks, places to eat, attractions, and the history of the vibrant and beautiful island.

The magazine can be found in airports, tourist locations, and hotels around the island.

Content Writer

Extreme Nomad

Working for an extreme sports website finally gave me the opportunity to put my years on the snow and surf to good use. This is an SEO-focused, large-volume client that expects only the most polished articles. The pieces were often over 2500 words and would require hundreds of well-placed SEO keyphrases naturally within the text
